Keep this fact in mind—The Echo's Great Automobile and Prize Campaign is just opening. Nothing of consequence has yet been done. It was our intention to publish the relative standing of candidates in this issue, but the few subscriptions received up to date at the campaign office are so scattered this will be postponed until our next issue. Next week will appear for the first time the standing of those in the campaign. If you are not in now is the time to get in. Get your name on the list and resolve to have one of the valuable prizes. Don't wait for someone else to nominate you. Nominate yourself. Don't get the idea that it is too late to enter. Right now is the time to get in. If you are a live wire you can make more money during the next few weeks than you ever dreamed of making in the same length of time.

Those who are already in should get going in earnest now. But a handful of subscriptions have been sold. The campaign is just starting. But remember the time is short. June 8, will be here almost before you know it, and on that date this great campaign closes.

Great possibilities are in store for the real live wires who participate.

An Unequal Opportunity
There are two facts that the management wishes to emphasize, first is that there are still several towns where no one has yet announced his candidacy, and that there is a splendid opportunity for more energetic people to get into the campaign now. Even the earliest starters are just beginning as the campaign just opened.

The second fact is that credits on subscriptions positively will depreciate in the two periods following. We want it clearly understood that there will be no time when bigger credits will be given than now. It would be manifestly unfair to the club members who get out and hustles early in the game for the management to allow more credits later. Early workers are assured that credits at no future time will be as great as during the first period (up to May 18) of the campaign.

The preliminary days will soon be gone. The next two weeks will truly be filled with golden moments for the hustlers for the biggest winner in the campaign will receive a prize that represents more than $200.00 a week for his or her time. Everyone will receive a fair compensation for his or her work. Hundreds of people skip and save all their lives and never accumulate an amount equal to the campaign now and annexing one of the big prizes.

Great Interest in Campaign
When announcement of our big campaign was made there were exclamations of surprise and pleasure from everybody who read about the wonderful opportunity. There are yet some who have not fully realized what a golden opportunity it is to promote their spare time and energy, and there are others who are making the start or planning the start immediately. The Echo cannot make you a winner if you do not make the start. Once started however, you are well on the road to victory.

List of Candidates
By looking over the list of candidates as they appear in this issue, it will be noted that a number of the best known and most enterprising people of this community have entered and will utilize their spare time in an effort to win one of the valuable prizes offered. However there is plenty of room and prizes for more hustling members in fact, the opportunity existing for live-wire workers is actually calling aloud.

Time is Limited—Get Busy
But only a short time remains in which to secure the maximum number of credits for subscriptions.

After May 18, there is a material decrease in the schedule of credits and after June 1 there is even greater decline—in fact, the regular schedule is out in half.

Our sincere advice to those who wish to win one of the big, latest model Motor Cars, is to hurry every available subscription into campaign headquarters NOW, while the big credits are still in effect. Not to do so means that you are throwing away golden opportunities—opportunities that will bring you one of the big prizes. The first count of credits in the campaign will be made and published in the paper next week.

N. O. BUS LINE NOW TRAVELS ALONG WAVELAND BLVD.

Scenic Coast Trip Added To By Change of Route; Public Pleased.

Since a few days the bus route from New Orleans to Bay St. Louis, and the same on return trip, has been changed as to embrace the entire scenic route of the Waveland beach boulevard and abandoning that part of the Old Spanish Trail between the Bay auto bridge and the Smith auto tourist camp.

The bus strike Waveland avenue and come down to Bay St. Louis on direct line, stopping wherever the waiting passengers may be.

This change was made at the instance of local suggestion and with a view of serving Waveland trade, which heretofore was cut off. Passengers may buy a ticket to Waveland and a landing is made at the door where the traveler is destined. In this addition to a view of the sea for several miles and the comfort of traveling over the hard-surfaced road. It is surprising this was not thought of before. An official says this change in route will stimulate more travel and more trade.

"MOLLY AND ME" AT A. & G. SUNDAY AND MONDAY; GOOD SHOW

Is Intensely Human Picture With Dialogue and Song. Something of the Story.

You are going to wish Molly and Jim Wilson were personal friends of yours—that you could go to their house and see how tender each is of the other and to go to the theatre and hear Jim's funny lines and see his funny face again and again—that's how human and lovable are the two leading characters of "Molly and Me" as portrayed by Belle Bennett and Joe E. Brown.

This will be the feature attraction at the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday evenings—two nights. Sound is used in "Molly and Me" only where it can enhance the value of the action. A comedian's lines can never be so funny in subtitles, and watching a singer from whose mouth comes no sound is dull, but, with actual talking and singing, the scenes become vibrantly alive. This is the first time Belle Bennett has been heard and her voice is as great a treat as her art.

SPECIAL MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM BAPTIST CHURCH

The First Baptist Church will hold a special Mother's Day Service Sunday morning at the Sunday School hour in which the students of the Sunday school will participate and to which the public is cordially invited.

The number of ballots polled by each candidate up to 6 o'clock next Wednesday night will be counted in this standing.

Who Will Lead
The first announcement of the cooperative strength of the various nominees will create intense interest. Who will top the list? Who will have shown the greatest speed during the opening days? These questions will be answered next week.

Start Now
Nominations will be received by the campaign manager all this week and next. We already have a very representative list of hustlers and unless we are very much mistaken, there will be no such thing as "quitters" among those entered.

Don't Procrastinate
There is no use to be discouraged if you haven't made the start yet, or even entered as far as that matters. The campaign is now open. Time is limited and precious now. As to where you will stand when the first credit count is made will depend entirely on the amounts of credits you must take subscriptions, old or new. Thousands already take the Echo as it is largely a matter of making collections, almost all subscriptions have expired and should be renewed. You may surprise yourself by heading the list of enthusiastic workers next week. Your friends will watch your standing. See what you can do.

NOTE—The first count of credits will be made next Wednesday night and published in next week's Echo. Who will lead in this first published standing? That's up to any Club Member listed in the campaign. It is just starting and anyone can step out in front in a few hours time. Who will lead and win? Telephone 420. Address Campaign Manager, care of The Echo, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

BETTER HOMES MEETING AT PARK IN LEETOWN SUNDAY

Landscaping and Care of the Home Grounds Form Main Subjects of Talks

A large number of interested people attended the meeting Sunday afternoon at Leetown Community Playground and Park, when this community observed the first of its two Better Homes demonstrations.

There were three talks given, each emphasizing landscaping and care of the home grounds. H. I. Harris, agriculturist for the Pearl River Bank at Poyune, discussed the general scheme of landscaping, placing or taller plants to the rear and correspondingly smaller plants in front. He suggested the value of keeping plants confined to beds in the corner of the yard and around the sides, devoting the greater portion of the grounds to lawns, which when planted to grass tend to eliminate the glare of the sun and give not only beauty but comfort.

He complimented the recently completed park at Leetown remarking on its natural beauty and stating that any city would gladly give $10,000 for such a lot to be used as a park. Frank B. Pittman, county farm agent, particularly emphasized the progress of Leetown community, pointing out its successful farming, its attractive homes and the park which he characterized as an ideal place for community get together meetings.

Miss Mayme O'Dom, county home demonstration agent, Hancock county, emphasized several points named by Mr. Harris in the planning of the home garden. She suggested the value of bringing the native plants into the home grounds, naming some of the most successful for transplanting such as the American holly, the yonon holly, the dogwood, the cedar and many others. She pointed out the use of combining the conifers and other evergreens with some deciduous plants used in the plantings. She suggested that all trees in the park be labelled with its name and family.

After the meeting in the park all visited the home of Mrs. Otto Rester, which is near the park and which has recently been landscaped. She served hot coffee during the visit.

Sunday's Program
A second observance of Better Homes will be held in Leetown Sunday, May 12, 3 o'clock. Again the meeting will be in the park. The subject will be interior decoration including treatment of windows, floors and furniture.

At the close of the speaking at the park a visit will be made to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonnie Rester, near by where the home has recently been remodelled and the furniture rehabilitated. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

HANCOCK PRISONERS ESCAPE

Alleged Murderers of Philip Peterson Escaped From Hinds County Jail

A special news message to the Echo Thursday morning from Jackson announced the escape from Hinds county jail of Henry Windom and Red Simmons, of Bogalusa, who, during the early part of last month were charged with entering the home of Philip Peterson, near him, the protestation of his wife, to no avail.

It will be remembered, it is charged, three men, including Horace Seal, had an argument about the price of illicit liquor and finally took it, after killing Peterson.

The message said nothing about Seal, but that Windom and Simmons escaped with two other prisoners, and none had been apprehended. A statewide search was immediately instituted, the message stated.

OFFICERS SEIZE 5100 GALLONS OF MASH DURING RAID

Hancock County Officers Were Assisted by Federal Prohibition and Gulfport Police.

Five thousands one hundred gallons of mash, six 100-gallon copper stills, 16 gallons of whiskey and five men were captured early Tuesday morning in a raid at a place in Hancock County known as Martin's reed brake.

Collins, federal prohibition officer, and Police John Payne of the Gulfport Police force went out Monday night about 10 o'clock. The still was in operation but the operators were absent.

The officers took two who were operating the still in custody and began pursuit of the five guards, succeeding in capturing three of them, two making their escape. Two of the fleeing men were captured by Deputy Sheriff John Byrd.

The two men operating the still were Oliver Cuevas and Ira Lisana and members of the guard captured were Henry Ladnier and Alphonse and Lemuel Cuevas. One of the two men to escape was a negro.

The officers continued their search and found five other stills in the same vicinity. The mash and still were destroyed.

The family at one time resided in Bay St. Louis, and later purchased the Peter Hellwege estate, on the Waveland beach front, where they spent the summer and winter weekends. Mr. Kothmann was widely and popularly known.

BAY-WAVELAND BLVD. IS GIVEN TRAFFIC TEST LAST SUNDAY

1,355 Cars are Checked In Twelve Hours at Given Point.

Before the heavy traffic of Summer sets in over the beach front, a fair test was given last Sunday of how many cars, omitting bus travel, would pass over the new Bay-Waveland boulevard, which includes Clermont Harbor and Lake Shore.

It is argued the new hard-surfaced boulevard, skirting the fluorescent waters of the beach, would augment travel more than in manifold ways.

Accordingly, a most religious test was taken Sunday—a day omitting all commercial traffic—and the given point selected was the J. N. Wisner estate.

Gay Ladner makes official affidavit that he checked 1,355 automobiles, passing from 7 o'clock A. M., to 7 o'clock P. M. The young man, Class '29, Bay High School, was stationed at the Wisner Pavilion, and had his dinner sent while at his post, during the noon hour.

This figures better than over 100 per hour, and it is estimated in full summer easily 500 will travel the boulevard every hour. With the Bay-Waveland Boulevard connected with New Orleans by way of Pearlington, thence over Rigolets and Chief free bridges, the figures will be—well, we wouldn't even venture a random guess. Possibly the obliging reader would.

SEARCH IS BEING CONDUCTED FOR LOST SUITCASE

Through Error Overnight Bag Was Given by Te-he Bus Driver To Wrong Person

A search is being conducted throughout the county and nearby counties for an overnight bag which was given Monday night to the wrong party through error on the part of the driver of a bus of the Teche Transfer Company which arrived in Bay St. Louis from New Orleans at 6:35 Monday night.

A lady embarked from the bus at Bay St. Louis to whom the driver gave the overnight bag which bore the number 15,034 on the claim check. The driver reported that as well as he could remember the lady to whom he gave this bag was met at the Bay by a Studebaker sedan bearing a Louisiana license. The owner of the bag resides in Birmingham.

The request is made by the transfer company that anyone who can give information regarding this bag report to any of the regular bus stops especially the Hotel Weston.

Returns from Chicago

A. B. Day, local manager of the Standard Roofing Company, distributors and contractors for Bird & Company roofs, returned Thursday of last week from a delightful motor trip to Chicago, where he went as the guest of R. D. Peterson of New Orleans, president of the Standard Roofing Company, to visit the factories where Bird & Company roofing materials are manufactured. Two other men were in the party, H. C. Lucas of Gulfport and E. S. Grace of Mobile. While in Chicago the party were the guests of Mr. Hurd, general manager for the factories. The trip through the factories where the Coast men saw the raw materials converted into completed roofing products was most interesting. They found the roads excellent. The route going and coming was different enabling the party to see other sections of country.

King's Daughters

The regular meeting of the King's Daughters Circle will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Hotel Weston. All members are urged to be present.

L. J. NORMAN RETIRES FROM MANAGEMENT OF EDW. BROS. GARAGE

Will Seek New Fields After 23 Years' Service—To Seek Change For Better Health.

Affiliated with the local Ford automobile agency of Edwards Bros. for over a period of twenty-three years, Louis J. Norman, interested in the firm and a resident manager, has resigned as executive manager of the business, and C. C. Jinks, of Georgia, has arrived and assumed his new post. Mr. Norman has no defined plans for the future, save that he will continue residing in Bay St. Louis, and in advice of his physician, will take a vacation of indefinite duration—seeking less work and more play. He has been a most active and successful worker for his firm and the major portion of success that has been achieved is due to his indefatigable work and constant application, and his retirement from his accustomed place of business is noted with regret by his business colleagues, patrons of the firm and the public in general.

Mr. Jinks is quite a young man but not without experience. He has been connected with Ford agency work for a number of years and comes to Bay St. Louis well recommended and fully equipped for the task which he has already assumed. Mr. Norman will remain with the business, however, until the expiration of the present month.

LARGE NUMBER ON FIRST OUTING OF SEASON SUNDAY

Fully 600 Residents of New Orleans Came to Bay With Union Indemnity Employees.

A large number attended the first outing of the season Sunday when fully 600 came from New Orleans with the Union Indemnity Company's employees and officials. The party arrived by special train per schedule. The band brought from the city led the parade to St. Stanislaus College where headquarters were for the day and where a number enjoyed the water sports, going swimming. Following dinner which various members of the party took at the local cafes and hotels, or which they had brought in basket style, the afternoon was devoted to the ball game when the visitors played Stanislaus resulting in a victory for the visitors in a 11-8 score.

EASTER LILY TIME IN BAY ST. LOUIS

Easter Lily time in Bay St. Louis is a period of great beauty as the thousands of white lilies flower in the gardens of people throughout the city, perfuming the air with fragrance.

The lilies in the yard of Mrs. E. J. Leonard on North Beach Boulevard are unusually lovely. There were more than a thousand blossoms in her yard this season. Not only does she have many flower but they open earlier by several days than any others that have been seen here and all are of excellent size and quality. She makes her friends happy by gifts of her beautiful flowers and she places many of them on the altars of the church during their season.

Near the Leonard home at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Shipp and Dr. and Mrs. James A. Evans there are many lilies in flower. Along the beach at the home of H. S. Renshaw and Max Kohler there are many lilies. There were some beautiful flowers in the yards of P. V. Lacoste and J. N. Wisner. Over 4000 lilies bloomed at the home of Alcide Ladner of Keller avenue.

Very few of the gardens but have a few of the lilies which seem to flourish with great ease in this section and whose culture the Coast gardeners understand.

Birthday Party

A delightful surprise was tendered A. B. Day Tuesday night on the occasion of his 52nd birthday, the surprise party being arranged by members of his family. Succeeding in getting him away from home on a ruse, an opportunity for the arrival of the guests was permitted and when the returned the greater number of guests had assembled. Close personal friends were invited. An evening of pleasant social intercourse and music was enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were enjoyed including a lovely birthday cake. Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Allen and daughter, Martha of Pass Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis and two children, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Speer and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cagle, Mrs. W. O. Sylvester, Mrs. James Sylvester, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Cruthirds, Mrs. J. C. Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Day.

Good Crowd At Hotel

The Hotel Weston enjoyed a large crowd during this past week, the crowd over the week-end being a forerunner of the summer crowds which are expected.

The world may be still, but few people walk around it.

If you simply must fly, use an airplane, not an automobile.

High winds are not the only things high these spring days.

Most of the fishermen of the country are re-furnishing their old yarns.

Many men do not borrow because they can't find anybody to make the loan.

The Boston Braves seem to have acquired the discarded tomahawking practice.

Advertising in the Sea-Coast Echo is a commodity for sale. No free extras and no cut prices.

There are a lot of newspapers in the United States that make better almanacs than they do news carriers.

We wonder why the people who owes us get such poor service from Uncle Sam. We seldom hear from our letters.

Everybody in Bay St. Louis should have a pride in every well-kept yard. Help the owner keep it attractive.

The people of the civilized nations are against war—at this time, but if some fool starts a row, involving national honor, the gods of war will smile again.

The rebel Mexican army is fast losing its officers. That shows the danger of carrying on a revolution so close to the border line.

The average head of the house needs no information as to when pay-up week comes. He has just passed through one of them.

Our extra slice of pie for this week is awarded the Bay St. Louis flapper who was sure her dresses were below her knees.

Now, wouldn't it be nice for the Associated press to finance the newspapers that print its news, thus assuring itself of a market?

The newest fad for children is a toymery to work like a library handles books. Some of these days somebody will organize a foodery for the little fellows.

The nations of the world are whooping up the "we don't fight any more" idea, but new ships and weapons continue to accumulate in the arsenals of the world.

From this vantage point, it begins to look like the Mexican federalists conducted a masterly campaign against the revolutionists, even if they couldn't run as fast.

It is inconceivable that in many states almost anybody can operate an automobile, and have the chance of killing and innocent pedestrian without paying a hunting license at all. Now, if he wants to hunt birds, it's a different story. We protect our birds.

BE TEMPERATE IN LIFE

The great argument advanced by many who oppose national prohibition is that the 18th amendment has undermined the fight for temperance, not only in the matter of strong drink, but in eating, working, playing and resting, as well.

The urgent necessity for every citizen to use temperance in all phases of life appears to mature minds, but it is not plain always to the younger people who plunge through life in pell-mell rushes.

What is a temperate gait? The question cannot be answered here in any satisfactory manner for all people. Each man and woman will have to determine his or her own limits. What is moderate for one may be excessive for the other or too little for a third person.

The real lesson of life is to be temperate in all things, whether it be business, bridge, baseball or bluffing.

NON-STOP, AROUND THE WORLD!

An ambitious attempt to fly around the world, in a non-stop flight, is to be attempted this year, says the Washington Post, which says that six well-known aviators will take off on the first clear day in September. Starting from New York, the itinerary measures 13,500 miles, and 22 refueling stations are to be established along the route, which follows a line to Glasgow, Siberia, Alaska, and thence back to New York.

The plane is to have five 420-horsepower engines, capable of a maximum speed of 160 miles an hour and a cruising speed of 120 miles. Two of the engines will be entirely in reserve, sufficient to bring the ship through if the other engines fail.

The huge fuel tanks will not be overburdened with gas, the idea being to take advantage of the refueling stations as needed. The proposed flight will cost nearly $400,000 and the amount, according to the new story, has been over-subscribed.

MANKIND OR BUGS?

The real warfare of mankind knows no peace on truce, night or day, and goes on uninterruptedly, a contest between insects and human beings for possession of the world. It is nothing to laugh at, for it costs the human race billions of dollars annually, in property destroyed and money spent to prevent additional destruction.

Science has learned to act as an intelligence bureau, promptly notifying of any new invasion. Recently the Mediterranean fruit fly appeared in Florida, and immediately State and Federal forces went into action against the new marauders. The task ahead is no mean one, as the Department of Agriculture points out:

"The intensity of the infestation, according to the Department indicate that it will be necessary immediately to determine fully and accurately the areas infested to destroy all fruit in the infested area; to clean up infested groves, involving the spraying of the trees to poison the adult flies, and the destruction of pupae in the soil; to trace shipments of fruits which have been made from the infested area; to determine whether the pest has been distributed in distant points by means of infested fruit; in view of the uncertainty of the extent of spread within the State, to provide for the inspection and certification of all fruits and of all host vegetables moving out of Florida, and as a further precaution approved by the representatives of the citrus industry of the State, to prohibit the movement of culls from all portions of the State—in other words, to limit shipments to graded and boxed fruit moving in refrigerated cars."

The danger of this fly to the entire nation can be seen from the Department's sketch: "The Mediterranean fruit fly occurs in many tropical and subtropical countries where it causes enormous damage by its attacks on a very wide variety of hosts—both fruits and vegetables—represented by such important commercial crops as oranges, grapefruit, plums, peaches, grapes, melons, squash, beans, etc. In addition to these important crops it also attacks guavas, mangoes, certain cherries, and many other tropical and subtropical fruits and vegetables grown in varying quantities in Florida and other parts of the United States. This pest injures the fruit or vegetables only and does not attack the plant. The eggs are deposited by the adult within the host fruit or vegetable, hatching into maggots which feed on the pulp until full grown. This pest breeds with enormous rapidity, a single female depositing upwards of 600 eggs, and in warm weather there may be a new generation every month, or even oftener." No wonder that Congress will be asked to furnish several million dollars to stamp it out.

So, the battle goes on, insect against man. The latter aids the enemy by killing thousands of birds for sport which otherwise would help destroy insects. Men will need all his skill and cunning in the warfare—already various pests make the production of crops and the preservation of property very difficult. That's why the agricultural authorities are taking prompt steps to prevent another one gaining a domicile here.

DEATHS THAT SEEM FORGOTTEN

Every two hundred minutes finds someone killed at a grade crossing in the United States. Most of these victims are riding in automobiles, and, admitting that the carelessness of the driver is responsible for many accidents, the fact remains that not every automobilist recklessly runs over the steel rails.

The elimination of grade crossings, now going on, is doing much, we think, to hold down the fatalities. However, some crossings cannot be hastily dispensed with but the danger that surrounds them can be substantially reduced. Increasing the length of track which can be seen from the highway would help in a great many crossings.

However, the grade crossing toll, high as it is, amounts to a small per cent of the dead that stray the nation on the highways. The automobile has brought death as well as better living. The killed and injured, in a year, mount like the casualty report of a battle.

The public mind, in Bay St. Louis as elsewhere, seems serenely indifferent to this reprehensible slaughter. Few states require rigorous investigation of all motor accidents or bar drivers who have participated in careless collisions. There is much to be done along this line before the highways of the country will be safe for the people, whether riding or walking.

The latest figures that we have seen, compiled by the Travelers Insurance Company, show that 27,500 persons were killed in 1928, which means about one to each 900 automobiles in the nation. Every twenty minutes, by rough calculation, some American departs for the outer world as a result of coming into fatal contact with an automobile. It is entirely too high a death rate and should engage the practical, rather than the statistical attention of the people everywhere.

ADVERTISING INCREASES

One of the best indications that business is humming in the United States, says Roger W. Babson, is the increased amount of advertising carried by newspapers and magazines. During 1927 and until October, 1928, the advertising volume slowly decreased, but since the last date each month has shown increases over the preceding year and indications are that the gains have continued through April.

Answering the question does advertising pay the economist cites the following facts:

Statistics show that the largest advertisers are making the greatest sales and the greatest net profits. For example, it is significant that the fifteen companies who spent the most money on national advertising last year showed total net profits 22 per cent greater than in 1927; whereas the average of 900 corporations, including large and small advertisers, showed total net profits only 14.7 per cent greater.

It may be argued that these fifteen large corporations are the biggest advertisers because they have the most money to spend. But don't put the cart before the horse! It is more true to say they are the biggest and most profitable concerns because they are, and have been, the largest advertisers. Each one of these fifteen companies spent $1,000,000 or over in advertising last year. One of them spent over $6,000,000.

He Sprays Hens.
The New Farm Plan.
Heads And Fists.
First Aid For Hoover.

Thousands that would not read an Einstein pamphlet will read this.

Walter Dorsey, colored, of Atlanta, Ga., confessing to chicken stealing on a wholesale basis tells the judge, "I just sprays 'em with chloroform. Then stand back and wait. In about five minutes they flop off the roost and are ready for my sack."

That's more interesting to many of us than the distance of the farthest star.

The "William and Mary" plan to subsidize exports of farm products is rejected by Mr. Hoover. The Senate plans, nevertheless, to try it.

The plan is to give farmers exporting wheat, etc., a bonus of one-half the American tariff on all the wheat or other farm products exported.

After considering the Departments of Agriculture, Commerce and the Treasury, Mr. Hoover says the plan would enrich the speculators and reduce world prices, since foreign markets would have to meet the competition of subsidized products.

Also, says the President, the plan would cost the country $200,000,000 a year, cause much bankruptcy and it would not solve the farm problem.

Farmers will cease moaning when they realize that the bonus money would be paid not direct to them but to merchants exporting products.

It needs "no ghost come from the grave" to tell farmers how little they would get of that bonus. Wheat gamblers and the middle-men would get it. The farmer in his taxes would have to pay part of it.

Mr. Tunney, world heavyweight champion, retired, has been visiting George Bernard Shaw on a small, sunny island in the Adriatic Sea.

Tunney is barely thirty. Shaw is seventy-three. And Shaw, who has NOT retired, has no idea of retiring. The head last longer than the fists.

Eight hundred delegates to the Red Cross Convention called upon President and Mrs. Hoover, and contributed first "First Aid" by refraining from the usual hand-shaking nonsense.

Why eight hundred intelligent human beings should want to squeeze the joints of the hand and tug at the muscles in the arm of a busy man is not easily understood.

Handshaking should be abolished, since it means nothing and spreads germs.

Germany permits all survivors of the Emden to add "Emden" to the rest of their names. Thus Friedrich Garbe is Friedrich Barbe-Emden. The Emden destroyed eighteen steamers and one cruiser before an Australian cruiser ended its career.

On the same basis Colonel Lindbergh would call himself Colonel Lindbergh-Atlantic Ocean.

Content or Lazy

Contentment is mighty hard to distinguish from plain laziness. When one is satisfied with what he has done his usefulness to himself or to others is about at an end. Picture to yourself those whom you know, who seem absolutely contented and probably you will picture an idle person.

One who is ambitious is never contented, but as he accomplishes one thing he works to reach a higher goal, and it is this urge that makes progress.

"Contented Cows," is a phrase used in the National Milk advertising campaign, but even cows drowsing lazily in the shade and seemingly idle are then engaged in their most important work; for it is the act of "chewing the cud" that is most important to the proper assimilation and digestion of their foods that stimulates the milk glands of the dairy cow and makes flesh on the beef.

Contented people are usually lazy people, and lazy people don't accomplish much.

Eggs Have Different Flavors

It probably will never be possible for hens to be made to produce eggs of such flavors as chocolate, strawberry, and so on, but there are several distinct flavors noticed in eggs from various sources.

Just as surely as garlic in the pasture taints milk, so do onions and other strongly odored items fed to hens impart hints of themselves to the yolks of eggs.

Often many a good egg is ruined because hens are allowed full freedom of the place and pick up things that are detrimental to egg flavor and quality.

No doubt you have noticed a peculiar taste in eggs from hens with pungent foods and did not understand it. This off-flavor usually comes when spring arrives and pungent grasses and vegetables become available to the flock. Next time you notice badly flavored eggs you will know the reason.

Middle Life Troubles

"About twenty years ago, my health was very bad," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Terrell, Texas. "I was passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal. I was not at all strong, and my nerves got all upset. I had hot flashes, and sometimes would get suddenly so faint I could not stand up. My head would whirl, and I could not see a thing. I would have to lie down for hours at a time."

"I improved so much after I had taken Cardui for a while. I continued the medicine for some months, until I had passed the critical period. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. Mobile Alabama's Only Seaport has a very enviable record of achievement. Since 1921 the total commerce of the port has increased over 180 per cent. During the past five years, modern and efficient ocean terminals, which cost $10,000,000, have been completed; a bridge stretching ten miles across the headwaters of Mobile Bay has been constructed. A Kraft paper plant costing $5,000,000 and a copper wire mill of one of the largest wire manufacturers in the U. S. have located here. A new high school costing $1,000,000 has been built; a new public library, an airport, white way lights, extensive street paving, garbage incinerators, a public golf course, new apartment buildings, a new country club, and several new industrial plants have been completed as if by magic. There are under construction now a power and steam plant costing $1,300,000, railroad yards costing $1,200,000, a six story and an eighteen story office building, and a new bank. In addition, the city is spending $1,800,000 on further paving, and the State and County are spending $6,500,000 on Mobile County Highways.

These improvements testify that Mobile is capitalizing her natural advantages. Strategically located in a section richly endowed with natural resources, with an abundance of cheap hydro-electric power, a favorable climate, a healthful location, and an unlimited supply of pure, soft water, Mobile is taking its place as an industrial city and as one of the outstanding seaports on the Gulf.

Behind all of these achievements there was a vision and a faith in Mobile's future.

What the "Old Reliable"

Means to Mobile

An average of 1145 employees of this Railroad make their homes and headquarters in Mobile. The average yearly payroll of this Company in the city of Mobile is approximately $2,000,000.

Seven passenger trains arrive and depart over the Mobile and Montgomery Division, and 7 arrive and depart over the

New Orleans and Mobile Division; 6 to 10 freight trains leave Mobile for New Orleans, and 8 to 10 east, affording shipping and traveling patrons prompt, reliable, and efficient freight and passenger service daily for local and distant points.

The L & N spends hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly in and around Mobile in the upkeep of its properties. It has recently reconstructed several large bridges in the vicinity; increased its facilities for handling marine coal, completed a modern outbound freight station, and is now engaged in the construction of entirely new facilities known as the "Sibert yard," costing over $1,000,000, adjoining the yards of the Alabama State Docks, recently completed at a cost of $10,000,000.

The "Old Reliable" feels that it is a distinct factor in the growth and development of Mobile.

ELECTED DIRECTORS OF HISTORICAL SOCIETY

At the organization meeting Saturday of last week of the Coast Historical Society held in Biloxi, three men from Hancock County were elected directors of the new organization, namely, C. C. McDonald, Dr. C. M. Shipp and Coburn Weston. Mr. Weston served as a member of the nominating committee.

The purpose of this organization is to preserve all historical evidence, data and materials regarding the Coast area. The Society is open for membership to anyone on the Coast interested in things historical. The Society is fortunate in having a home from the beginning. The city of Biloxi has recently purchased in the property on Porter avenue on which stands what is regarded as the oldest house in South Mississippi, if not in the state and this building is to be turned over to the society as a headquarters. It is planned to restore this building as a shrine as possible, to remove the porch and to restore a roof in harmony with the kind of roofs used at the time the house was built. Mr.

Swan has ascertained that this house, and another in the vicinity were built by an ancestor of the Fayard family on a grant of over 600 acres in about 1793. These houses were built at about the same time. The walls are of clay secured on the bay and moss and hickory sticks were used as a binder. It will be entirely possible to restore these walls. They were covered with plaster made of crushed shells. The roof was of cypress, hand made shingles. From rumors and stories afloat on the Coast, there are in the keeping of local families valuable and interesting relics and historical documents which this or-

RT. REV. R. O. GEROW CONFIRM CLASS OF 65

A class of 65 were confirmed Sunday night, 7:30 o'clock at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church. Rt. Rev. G. O. Gerow, bishop of the diocese of Natchez, officiated at the confirmation, asking the questions, delivering the sermon and giving the blessing. He was assisted by Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor, and other priests of the parish. There were three converts, seven grown people and the others were children who received their confirmation at this impressive service.

The altar was beautiful for the service with its hundreds of Easter lilies and white robed girls in their veils, and the boys with their badges and all with their candles presented a beautiful spectacle.

Assist In Better Homes

Through an error in reporting the activities of Better Homes Week in Bay St. Louis, the participation of St. Margaret's Daughters as joint hostesses with St. Joseph's Academy was unintentionally omitted. Ladies of St. Margaret's Daughters aided the girls from the Academy throughout the day acting as hostesses and showing the visitors through the E. J. Gex and Miss Mayme O'dom homes. This was another evidence of the cooperation of St. Margaret's Daughters with all worthy civic enterprises.

HERE ON THEIR HONEYMOON

An interesting event of the Macca-bees convention was the marriage of one of the state officers, C. L. O'Quinn, and Mrs. Nelle Lockett Jones, both of Meridian. They came to the Coast accompanied by the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert C. Pyle, also of Meridian, and were married Wednesday in Gulfport at the First Presbyterian manse, Dr. C. S. Newman officiating. They came on to Bay St. Louis for their honeymoon, participating in the sessions of the Macca-bees convention, and going from here to New Orleans before returning to Meridian. ECHOES OF WEEK FROM ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE

Last week, Bro. Provincial visited the college. He attended the Sodality meeting and highly praised the work being done.

Reggie Blaize, our classmate, spent the week-end in New Orleans on a business trip.

Last Thursday we discovered we had a very good fisherman among our student body. Pascal Falchetto caught an alligator with his bare hands.

Sunday the college campus was the scene of an outing of the Union-Indemnity Company of New Orleans. The visitors had very agreeable weather the entire day.

Sodality News.

The amount collected during the past week for the missions were $5.83. This makes the percentage the same as last weeks', 41 per cent. The eleventh A led with 105 per cent, the cent, and the fifth grade came third with 60 per cent.

At our meeting last Saturday we had the honor of Brother Albertinus' presence and the pleasure of a talk by him. He complimented us highly by telling us that our Sodality is more active than any other he has seen, but he noticed from the reports of the various committees that the lower grades seem to lead in our various activities, and urged the higher classes to get busy and climb into their proper place.

The collection for Father Lord Saturday was the highest for several weeks. $1.15 was given in, which brings the total to $29.60. Forty cents more. Let's go.

Chairman Lacoste has selected the following boys to serve on the recently formed "Our Lady's Committee": Sam Haik, M. Guenoit, J. C. Rolap, D. Buttman and M. Bertin. The purpose of this committee is to show devotion to our Blessed Mother. You are asked to say a few extra Hail Marys each day.

The boys of the Sodality are showing their devotion and loyalty to our Lady during this month of May. Last week the percentage for communications was 89 per cent, this week 100 per cent.

The smaller boys are still out in front, through the results for the past week were:

First—Fifth Grade, 160 per cent;

Second—Sixth grade, 133 per cent; Third—Seventh grade, 120 per cent; Fourth—(Mr. Wentworth's) Eleventh's grade 104 per cent; Fifth—Ninth grade, 99 per cent; Sixth—Special class, 97 per cent; Seventh—Bro. Rudolph's Tenth grade, 92 per cent; Eighth—Bro. Cyprian's Tenth grade, 90 per cent; Ninth—Eighth grade, 86 per cent; Tenth—Bro. Baseball.

The Rock-A-Chaws tasted defeat for the first time this season when the Biloxi (Indians) netted six runs to Stanislaus' two in a loosely played game at Biloxi, Miss., Thursday afternoon. The Indians took the lead in the first stanza as the result of two safe blows by Schneider and Helvest. With the exception of the third inning, in which five runs were counted on a number of errors and a triple, the Biloxians were unable to touch Egloff for but four scattered blows. The Rocks tallied their two runs in the fourth when Gilly became wild and walked three men in a row. Gene Crope was credited with hitting the only Stanislaus man to hit safely in the game, this lonely hit coming in the eighth.

The batteries of the game were: Stanislaus: Egloff, and Cavalier; Biloxi Hi: Gilly and Kelley.

Rock-A-Chaws lose to Easton.

Warren Easton journeyed to the Bay Saturday evening to hand the Rock-A-Chaws their second defeat of the season, letting the home team down 25-5. Easton showed their gigantic offense in the first inning by piling up thirteen runs with seeming ease. The home team made a comeback in the third and fourth frames to score three runs, and added two more in the eighth. The game was loosely played throughout both teams in many instances taking advantage of the others errors. Collier allowed the visitors fifteen hits while his teammates collected six sure blows.

Batteries: Stanislaus, Collier and Cavalier. Warren Easton, Botsay and Cueban. Umpire: Gaddy (A. & M.).

Union Indemnity's Nose Out Rock-A-Chaws.

The Rock-A-Chaws tasted defeat at the hands of the Union Indemnity Company Sunday evening, coming out on the short end of the 11-8 count. The three runs amassed by the visitors in the first inning failed to put a damper on the Stanislaus Spirit and the home team deadlocked the count at the end of the fourth frame.

The game swayed back and forth first one team having the advantage, then the other, until with two out in the seventh "Cotton" Collier crashed out a screaming triple to deep center scoring two men and giving the Stanislausians a one-run lead. The visitors then took the offensive and accounted for four more runs to put the game on ice. The home team counted eight hits while the visitors netted fourteen safeties.

Batteries: Stanislaus: Egloff and Cavalier. Union Indemnity, Armand and Hemel. Umpire: Gaddy (A. & M.).

Hens Like Sweets

Like most all female things hens like sweets.

Some experimental work and the experience of poultrymen in Vermont show rather good results from feeding cane molasses to chickens. A. W. Lohman, extension poultry specialist of the University of Vermont, says it makes unfavorable conditions for the development of bacterial troubles in the small intestine. Most of the poultrymen are feeding the molasses in the dry mash, about 4 percent bringing the best results. Some flock owners are using it in liquid milk with good effect. It can be used with water in making a wet mash. When fed to laying hens it has a tendency to increase egg production and seems to improve the general health and appearance of the flock. The experimental work shows that in all-mash starting and growing ratios 5 per cent of case molasses is best.

CHAPTER IV.

Comrade Pirk Henwether

I have never received a more royal welcome than that tendered us by those living at the Home. They had heard us coming a long way down the road—that is one of the advantages Grandmother Page has over most cars—and when we came around the turn the Home band burst into melody.

"Burst" is absolutely the correct word, as you would realize if you had heard the sound and had seen the expression of the players. Grandmother Page shied and nearly jumped into the ditch. The air was "The Star-Spangled Banner," but the slide trombonist evidently had the wrong music.

But what a bass-drum virtuoso! I have never heard a bass-drum played more feelingly, even in Sousa's Band. What expression, what shades of meaning the artist put into it! You could just picture the bombs bursting in air. First came the boiler-factory motif, then a minor counterpoint melody of bursting quick-detachable tires, and finally a reversion to the original theme in the major key, ending in a magnificent crescendo, a sort of tone-picture of a courtship between two coast-defense guns at two hundred yards' range.

It was magnificent! Grandmother Page was shamed to absolute silence for the first time since we have been acquainted.

As we pranced up to the gate the melody grew a trifle thinner. All the players seemed to be working just as hard, but the result was discouraging. One by one the artists would cease playing and shake their instruments with a puzzled look. At length none was left but the bass-drum player. He hammered away regardless until the leader took the drumstick away from him.

Colonel Stewart, the acting head of the Home, met us with outstretched hand. He was fine, hearty old fellow with white hair and a close-cropped military mustache.

"The boys certainly appreciate your kindness in giving a show for them," he told us. "We're eight miles away from anywhere out here and they don't get many chances even to see moving pictures."

The members of the band came up and he introduced them.

As I shook hands enthusiastically with the bass-drummer, Colonel Stewart said:

"This is Comrade Pirk Henwether. You'll have to speak pretty loudly to him, as he is nearly stone deaf."

I congratulated him. "It's all for the best."

"We're sorry we couldn't play that piece all the way through," apologized the bandmaster. "We know all the notes, but it's so cold that the wind instruments all froze up. I told the boys not to blow damp, but I guess they couldn't help it."

"Nerved mind," I soothed. "It's all for the best."

He looked at me suspiciously, but apparently saw no guile in my eye because he went on cheerfully:

"It will be all right when we get inside and thaw out the horns. Then we'll play it over again for you."

We had a lovely time that afternoon. The old soldiers were as eager to play as children. In the summertime they had lots of visitors, but in the winter it was rather dull. The Home is on Three Bears Lake, eight miles from the town of Fair Oaks at the other end where the railroad station is. As a consequence few people take the trip in winter except for some special reason.

Comrade Abel Dreyenfurth had lost a leg at Antietam. That did not interfere with a lively desire to learn the fox-trot, and Maryella spent an hour teaching it to him.

The bass-drummer Pirk Henwether, discovered in me a kindred soul.

"I like you, Mr. Bilbeck," he confided at the top of his voice. "I can sort of tell what you are talking about because you make faces when you speak."

The undertaker's bus arrived just before dinner. We all ate together in a large mess-hall. The dwellers at the Home cook their own meals and do all their own housework.

"That's the chief objection I got to the Home," said Pirk Henwether, hardly raising his voice above a shout. "There ought to be some female veterans. I'm durned if I like washing dishes."

The dinner was good, all except the desert, which was a fallen angel-food cake with ice-cream.

"Henry Klingman made it," Pirk confided, "and I think it's punk if you want my honest opinion. But I wouldn't let him hear me say that because it would only hurt his feelings."

As Comrade Klingman was in the room and Pirk Henwether spoke in his ordinary tone of voice, there seemed little doubt of his feelings receiving a jolt.

"It ain't so bad, though," Pirk went on, "when you come to think that Henry has only got one arm. He says the other one was shot off at Chancellorsville, but it's my private opinion he lost it running a buzz-saw after the war was over. Anyhow, he draws an extra allowance as a one-armed man."

CRASH!

That's about all a lightning storm means to the average person—just a series of blinding flashes followed by the rolling crash of thunder and accompanied by the drum of rain. Even when sometimes the lights go out after one of those shiver-provoking discharges it is so warm and dry and safe indoors that the necessary candles add to, rather than detract from, the enjoyment of this security.

To the Mississippi Power Company and its employees lightning is an entirely different matter. Long before the storm breaks the lightning arrestors begin their machine-gun crackle, relieving the transmission lines, and the entire operating personnel stands by to rush to the scene of trouble should the lightning score a bulls-eye. Specially designed equipment may protect the service from the defects of near-by lightning but when the aim of storm-god improves, and the lightning makes a direct hit, nothing can prevent an interruption. On such occasions our employees do not hesitate to expose themselves to the dangers of the storm in order to restore your service as quickly as possible.

An interruption which means only a few minutes inconvenience to you may mean thousands of dollars in wrecked equipment to this Company, and to our employees, hardship and possibly a gamble with death.

WORLD'S TALLEST EDIFICE TO HOUSE RAILROAD OFFICES

Crane Tower Will Be Built
Over I. C. Terminal in Chicago.

Plans for construction of the world's tallest building, a seventy-five-story edifice to house the general offices of the Illinois Central railroad and the Crane Manufacturing Company, is announced.

The building, to be known as the Crane Tower, will rise 1022 feet, thirty-eight feet higher than the top of the Eiffel tower in Paris. It will be located on Chicago's new thoroughfare, Randolph Boulevard, a continuation of Randolph street extending from Michigan Boulevard to the lake. The date of the start of construction has not yet been announced.

In addition to being the tallest structure ever erected by man, it will be the world's largest office space. The net rental area of the largest office building at present is said to be the Equitable building in New York which contains 1,250,000 square feet.

The building, according to the plans announced, will be on Illinois Central property, leaving the railroad space beneath it for passage of electric suburban trains.

The building is to be erected by the Railroad Air Rights Corporation, organized by a syndicate of Chicago and New York investors, represented by Walter W. Alschlager, architect, who conceived the project. The corporation has secured a 100-year air rights lease for the project.

Among the outstanding features of the edifice as announced is a 100-car garage for tenants; a first floor exhibition hall, a 104,000-foot exhibition coliseum, tenants' club, grills, restaurants, Turkish baths and a gymnasium.

The building is to be constructed of Bedford stone, with the exception of the crowning stories, which will be of gold terra cotta.

Financing will involve issuance of $26,000,000 in leasehold bonds and stock.

MISSING MAN FOUND DROWNED IN PEARL RIVER SUNDAY P. M.

Farrar Denson of Gulfport,
Former Singer Sewing Machine Agent, Body
Recovered.

The body of Farrar Denson of Gulfport, missing from his home since Thursday of last week, was found drowned in Pearl River Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock, floating about 200 yards from the Southern railroad bridge. A party of searchers including several relatives of the deceased discovered the body after a three days' search.

Mr. Denson had left his home on Thursday morning telling his wife he would return that afternoon. When he did not return home a search was instituted for him. It was found that he had been seen on the Henderson Point road about 9:30 o'clock, that morning waiting for a bus to go to Pearl River. He was traced to Pearl River. Later it was found he had talked with the bridge tender at Pearl River about noon Thursday. This was the last man to have seen him alive, it is believed.

A coroner's jury from St. Tammany parish pronounced death accidental or suicidal with mental disturbance as the cause. Searchers found where the body had slipped into the river.

Until some three months ago Mr. Denson was agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company in the Coast District, having held this position for 12 years.

His body was taken to Covington for preparation for burial and later carried to Gulfport where it remained until Tuesday morning when it was taken by motor to Prentiss for burial at the family cemetery.

GUIDEPPOSTS TO Health and Happiness

By Bernarr Macfadden

WHY BLAME THE COLLEGES?

Not so very long ago a man, prominent in the business world, created quite a sensation by his caustic criticism of college girls.

"When they graduate from college," he said, "they are thoroughly ignorant of a lot of things they ought to know. Their brains are twisted by psychology, logic and philosophy and a lot of other stuff that only the man or woman who intends to make his or her life's work, should meddle with. And along with this useless learning, they have acquired another sort of education that they might well do without. I refer to cigarette smoking, the use of slang, paint, powder, lipstick and high-heeled shoes."

To my mind, this man is unfair in his generalization. There are all sorts of college girls, just as there are all sorts of school girls and business girls.

Why blame colleges for the perversities of human nature? College girls, just like other girls, know that cigarette smoking is harmful, but most of them smoke because it makes them feel smart and sophisticated. For the same reason they use rouge and lipstick and slang and "spike" heeled shoes. This is their idea of fun—but is it worthwhile when it takes away from their sweetness as well as the strength of whole-some girlhood?

In the matter of high-heeled shoes

I heartily agree with this critic. They are actually physically injurious for a number of reasons, chief among them being that they throw your whole body structure out of line, and displace organs that bring pain and suffering in later life. They jar your backbone with every step. They make you staid and sedate, stiff and rigid. And why not—since the high heel is nothing more or less than a short stilt. It is the deadly parallel of the vicious and cruel practice of foot-binding in China, that the enlightened Chinese are now abolishing.

But with the low-heeled—or better still, the heelless shoe, your whole mental outlook changes. Try it and see. The delicious feeling of freedom it gives invites you to run and skip as you did when a child. You are glad to be alive.

To get back to the college girl—the colleges themselves are not above criticism. In the past they have been notoriously lacking in their attention to the requirements of health. Many girls and boys have studied themselves into semi-invalidism in order to pass examinations. Some have even committed suicide through overwork. Education is useless unless it builds up the body, broadens the intellectual facilities, increases one's reasoning power and gives one the desire and ability to solve life's greatest problems. Such an education is a gold mine of infinite depth.

Mississippi Happenings

FOOT WARMER—

Judge Jennings I. Sturdivant of Columbus sometimes has cold feet. To keep the malwars warm he bought a small oil stove, put it under his desk, last week some cold-natured fellow stole the stove. A substitute was sent in while the sheriff sought the stealer.

COW FIGHT—

Burton Barrett was badly battered and bruised following a little battle he had with a cow last week. Burton was at one end of a rope, the cow at the other. The cow jerked Burton down; the rope twisted around his feet. After that it was all in favor of the cow.

MANN—

Down Jackson's streets moved slowly and reverently the funeral cortege of Banker J. E. Wilson. Racing irreverently and unlawfully, Negro Mann Gibson smashed into the line, sideswiped three cars. Threatened with manhandling, Mann was rescued by police, jailed.

WEAK WILLIE—

Saucer-eyed and weak-kneed was Negro Willie Robinson of Prentiss as he sat beside his spilled milk pail. While Willie milked a bolt of lightning took a slab off the barn he was in, entered, knocked the yolk off his head, killed a mule and a calf.

BERT—

Bert Anderson parked his car on the beach at Briarfield, near Biloxi. He had a lady with him. They quarreled. Out jumped Bert, went down on the seawall, took a swig of lysol, soon succumbed. He had a wife in Texas.

ARABS ALL—

Nagh Mohammed and Mohammed Caig came to Mississippi's Coast, on the S. S. Druid. America was better than Arabia, thought they, and started to New York. In Alabama immigration officers received them, sent them back to their ship.

HOMESICK—

Ed Banks, Lincoln county black, walked up to the state pen at Parchman, said he was homesick, asked to be let in. Sentenced to life imprisonment, Ed has been a w. o. l. four times since 1918.

NO ROMEO—

Romeo Farretto of Gwin has not the grace and tact of his Shakespearean forebear. Unnecessary remarks made by him about young ladies have cost his company $50,000 within a year. Recently came a verdict awarding Miss Zelma Jolly $25,000, all for Romeo remarks.

TEARFUL SINNERS—

Gulfport cops henceforth will compel lawbreakers to cry. With tears streaming from their eyes, culprits will snuffle and whimper before masked and unmoved policemen. Reason: The city's police force has just received an ample supply of tear bombs.

R. C. ENGMAN REELECTED OFFICE PAST COMMANDER MISS. MACCABEES

Quadrennial Session Proves Quite Interesting—Good Business Meetings—Delightful Socials—Gulfport Is Next Convention City—Committee Complimented.

R. C. Engman of Bay St. Louis, was reelected to the office of past commander of the state organization of Maccabees at the quadrennial convention held in Bay St. Louis Thursday and Friday of last week. He has held this office for the past four years. D. V. Cochran of Gulfport, was reelected state commander.

Other officers reelected include: M. L. Downs, Meridian, record keeper; S. A. Walker, of Brookhaven, master-at-arms. Other officers elected were: W. W. Walker, Pascagoula, lieutenant commander; R. N. Gibson, Columbus, chaplain; Francis Brest, Laurel, sergeant; T. J. Walsh, McComb, first master of guards; G. I. Netterville, McComb, sergeant; N. E. Fisher, Brookhaven, second master of guards; R. W. Case, Natchez, ricket. John J. Pulliam of Gulfport was chosen supreme representative and will go as state representative to the annual supreme convention in Detroit. G. I. Netterville of McComb was selected alternate supreme delegate.

Gulfport was chosen as the next convention city. Heretofore it has been the custom for the Maccabees of Mississippi to hold conventions once in four years. A resolution was introduced into the convention Friday morning suggesting a plan whereby conventions may be held annually. Each delegate of his tent will return home with this plan for holding the annual conventions and in the near future it will be decided whether this may be done, after the various organizations of the state approve.

The business session of the convention was dispatched with interest and all matters of state concern were handled satisfactorily. Two distinguished visitors, Mrs. Cora E. Phillips of Detroit, head of the juvenile department, and S. K. Hall of Detroit, supreme record keeper, were guests of the convention and their addresses were most interesting.

Mr. Hall who came to the Coast for his first visit, expressed his pleasure in the section and his reception here. Not only did he give an exhaustive report of the methods of handling all records of the Maccabees at the home office but offered suggestions to the delegates of how each state organization can improve its record work and assist in making more efficient the supreme record keeper's work. He answered many questions from the delegates and the round table discussion was found valuable. He left Thursday for Alexandria to be present at the Louisiana convention which convened there on Friday.

Mrs. Phillips spoke outlining the children's work, telling of the almost 10,000 children who have been enrolled into Maccabee membership in the three years in which this organization has been fostered as a part of the all-family protection plan of the Maccabees. She is enthusiastic over the growth of this work and its possibilities, and has set as a goal for every court that it double its membership in the coming year. Mrs. Phillips left for Alexandria, Friday night and spoke at the Louisiana state convention there Saturday.

Thursday night the initiation of women and men candidates was witnessed by over 200 Maccabees from the state and the Coast. The lodges from Gulfport exemplified the ritualistic work. A feature of the meeting was the talk by Mrs. Phillips who expressed her pleasure in the work performed.

The local committee had prepared delicious refreshments of sandwiches and ice cold pop which were served at the close of the meeting.

The two social events of the convention were the boat ride Friday afternoon which about 75 Maccabees enjoyed, leaving the pier at Biloxi and going to Isle of Caprice, and the final dinner-dance at the Hotel Weston Friday night for which there were 150 reservations.

The banquet tables were arranged in the main dining room of the hotel and vases of handsome Easter lilies

NEGRO REPUBLICAN RESIGNS POSITION AT HOOVER'S REQUEST

Perry Howard, Dispenser of White House Gravy in Mississippi Is Let Down By Chief.

Shorn of his political power by President Hoover, Perry W. Howard, negro onational committeeman for Mississippi, and dispenser of White House gravy for this State, who recently was acquitted in charges of receiving money to influence federal appointments, resigned Monday, as an assistant attorney-general, says an Associated Dispatch from Washington.

The resignation was coincident with the lifting of the suspension order issued by former Attorney-General Sargent after Howard's indictment in Mississippi about a year ago in connection with patronage affairs. He twice was brought to trial and was acquitted in each instance.

Attorney-General Mitchell said he had not requested Howard's resignation. However, in view of President Hoover's statement recently that patronage disclosures in Mississippi rendered it impossible for the old organization there to command the confidence of the administration the retirement of Howard from the government service had been expected in Washington.

Howard was appointed a assistant attorney-general early in the Harding administration and long has been prominent in Republican party affairs in his own state. He was a somewhat familiar figure at the party conventions and was among those who supported Mr. Hoover for the nomination at Kansas City.

The retiring assistant attorney-general continues to hold the title of national committeeman for Mississippi, but the direction of party affairs was taken out of his hands during the campaign and now is in charge of a committee from which negroes have been eliminated.

Hoover revealed as author of new naval arms reduction plan.

All three English parties back Gibson on naval proposals.

were used in decoration. A well prepared dinner was served. Later the room was cleared for dancing and the evening was spent pleasantly in this amusement, a local jazz band furnished the music.

An interesting feature of the dinner program was the introduction of the newly elected state officers, the introduction being made by D. V. Cochran, of Gulfport, state commander. Four pins were presented to Maccabees, the 25-year emblem being in the form of service jewels. Mr. Cochran made an interesting address explaining the honor attached to earning one of these jewels. Those present to receive their jewels were J. Wade Kerr of Gulfport, with 33 years of service; N. B. Alvarez of McComb tent, with 36 years of service and L. M. Downs of Meridian with 31 years. To R. C. Engman of Bay St. Louis, past commander of the state organization, there was presented one of the service jewels in recognition of his 21 years of membership and his distinguished contribution to the Maccabee work.

Delegates to the state convention expressed their pleasure in the entertainment afforded and were hearty in their praise of the local committee which worked so untiringly for the success of the meeting.

A Card to the Public.

Having sold my store business in Main street to the Mississippi Coast Grocery Company, operating a chain of Jitney-Jungle Store, and already turning over the business to them, I wish to not only commend the trade and continuation of the good will of my customers to the new owners, but to take this occasion of expressing my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to the people of Bay St. Louis and surrounding territory in general for their patronage.

To have served the people of this section over a period of many years and to have won their approval has indeed been quite a source of satisfaction, and I wish them to know that I am thankful and filled with a sense of appreciation that will not be forgotten.

As manager of the store under its new ownership I will be glad to continue serving one and all and hope I will be given the continued pleasure of so doing.

Very truly yours,

The Big Yellow Sign

IS DISPLAYED ONLY WHERE

Genuine Alemite Lubricants

ARE USED.

Of course, you know that the surest way to avoid high operating costs is to have your car Alemited every 500 miles. Automotive engineers have long recognized this. That's why the Alemite System is installed as standard equipment on 39 per cent of the motor cars manufactured today.

But the methodical use of the system is only half the story, for the best system in the world will not offset the use of cheap greases. Cheap greases do more harm to a bearing than good. They defeat the purpose of any lubricating system.

When you bring your car to us we lubricate it with genuine Alemite Lubricant—a high quality, absolutely reliable Lubricant, which is produced by the makers of the Alemite System. Because of our determination to display the big Yellow Sign which you see at our station. It is your protection, and you can be SURE of the utmost in lubrication if you bring your car to us.
